All clues are normal. Of the nine unclued answers, all of which must be deduced, seven are not real words but are formed in a way indirectly suggested by the title. (Strictly speaking, 34 and 17 are two parts of the same item, each treated separately in a similar thematic way.) The remaining two are real words which help to form a link between the title and the other unclued answers. Unchecked (but not mutually checkfing) letters in unclued answers form ANALYSE PAVAN TO A TOAD. Competitors should submit with their solutions a normal cryptic clue to the longer of the two unclued 'real-word' answers.
